WILSON PUTS VETO AXE TO PEACE RESOLUTION

DECLARES ACCEPTANCE OF THE MEASURE WOULD BE VIRTUAL SURRENDER OF PRINCIPLES TO OUR OLD ENEMY

LITTLE HOPE OF PASSING OVER VETO

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 27— President Wilson today vetoed the Knox peace resolution declaring an end to the war between the United States and Germany and Austro-Hungary. The resolution Wilson declared is "in effect a complete surrender of the principles of the United States so far as Germany is concerned."

ALLEGED ACCESSORY IN CURWENSNILLE MURDER IS ON TRIAL TODAY

Clementi Pistelli, of Curwensville, was found guilty of murder in the second degree by a jury in criminal court yesterday afternoon. He had been on trial since Monday for the killing of Temisticle Cavaterra, who was killed in a battle with Pistilli at Curwensville on December 6th last. The jury returned their verdict at 2:30, the cause having been given into their hands at 12:30 following Judge Bell's charge.

The maximum penalty for second degree murder is 20 years and the minimum 6 years in the penitentiary.

Following the return of the verdict Angelo Tucci, a boarding house keeper at Curwensville and at whose house Pistilli and Cacaterra engaged in a wordy altercation a few minutes before the killing was placed on trial for his life, being charged with being an accessory before the fact of the killing, it being alleged by the Commonwealth that Tucci supplied Pistilli with the revolver with which he shot Cavaterra to death, and also urged Pistilli to follow Cavaterra out of the house and "get him."

District Attorney Arnold, representing the Commonwealth and A. H. Woodward, Esq., employed by a brother of Cavaterra, and who prosecuted Pistilli, will also prosecute the case against Tucci, while Messrs. A. M. Leveright and W. C. Miller will have charge of the defense.

The afternoon and a night session last night was devoted to securing a jury, an extra or special venire of talesmen was made necessary, sixty-five men being summoned before the required twelve were secured at 9:30 o'clock. Six of the jurors are Clearfielders specially summoned by the sheriff, and it is needless to add that none of them enjoyed being yanked from their business yesterday evening and locked up for the night, with a consequent two or three day grind.

The completed jury follows:

William H. Curley, labor, Cooer twp.
James Dickey, garage man, Mahaffey
William Dunbar, blacksmith Mahaffey
John Weaver, farmer, Burnside Twp.
W Howard Stewart, agent, Clearfield
Alonzo Fubbs, mine foreman, Knox
D F Moore, farmer, Karthaus Twp.
O I Shangrow engineer, Clearfield
D H Heck car worker, Clearfield
John Gearhart, mfg., Clearfield
Wm O. Woomer, agent, Clearfield
Harry Evans, manager, Clearfield

PROPERTY OWNERS NEAR BOROUGH LINE OBJECT TO DUMP

We regret that lack of space will no longer permit us to publish all the communications we receive, but we shall, from time to time, endeavor to make mention of the salient points in these letters. Among others we have today is one from a Plymptonville resident who objects to the dumping of rubbish of every description on the landscape out there. He states that they have no objection to the incinerator, but that along with the inflammable rubbish there is being delivered to that section great quantities of fruit cans, broken dishes and other unsightly and unsanitary waste, which will be a breeder of flies, a haven for rats and a blot on their civic pride. There is justice in the contention of the people of that section of our community. We have no license to make a back yard dump out of that section, where practically everybody owns their own home, humble though they may be. The concluding paragraph of the letter is as follows and it is a strong indictment:

"Many of these people have been compelled to move outside the borough because of the scarcity of houses. They have bought lots and built their homes and are trying to make their little town a clean, liveable place for their families. Many of them belong to your churches and Sunday Schools. They trade at your stores and subscribe to your paper. Yet the city authorities have ordered all the filth of Clearfield dumped practically in their back yards. Again I say, is it fair?"

A SUBSCRIBER.

WELL KNOWN CITIZEN PASSES AWAY

Kerin Horey, mention of whose illness of a very serious nature was made recently in The Progress, passed away at the Clearfield Hospital last evening about 6 o'clock, as the result of an attack of blood poisoning, following an injury to one of his feet on March 17th last, while employed on the street crew of Clearfield borough.

The deceased had been a resident of Clearfield for the past thirty-five years, coming here in the early '80's to run the engine at the tannery. For the past five or six years he had been a faithful employee of Clearfield borough. He was an industious man and enjoyed the respect and esteem of a wide circle of friends. He was aged about 72 years, and is survived by his widow, three sons and two daughters.

The deceased was a lifelong member of the Catholic church and his funeral will be held from St. Francis church Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. Interment in Calvary cemetery.

"WHEN GOOD FELLOWS GET TOGETHER

The Progress office was favored yesterday with a call from three representatives of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce which it was a real pleasure to meet and greet. The visiting delegation was composed of some 126 men representing the business and professional life of the hustling "smoky city" and while they were all good fellows and good business men no doubt a number of them were along to add dignity, impressiveness and eclat to the occasion by reason of their presence Not so with our callers. They were the real live wires from and through which radiated the "life and punch" to the visit from its inception to yesterday's consummation.

The gentlemen in question were our old friend John P. Cowen publicity man for the expedition who doeth all things to which he puts his hand, exceptionally well, as this trip's advertisement demonstrates; William A. White, of the Tri-State News Bureau and Charles J. Doyle, another Knight Errant of the Fourth Estate.

This trio of experts were giving things the critical once over as they went along and were getting a lot of real pleasure out of the acquaintanceships they were renewing and making while perambulating in and about the different places on their itinerary. They will always be welcome in Clearfield.

ANTHRACITE MEN REJECT OFFER OF WM. B. WILSON

Convention Passes Resolution To Accept Federal Arbitration But As "Compulsory"

TALE FLING AT ROBINSON

WILKESBARRE, May 27—The tri-district convention of the anthracite miners today unanimously rejected the proposed agreement of Secretary of Labor Wilson by which the cabinet member endeavored to bring about a satisfactory adjustment of the miners' demands.

Immediately following the rejection the secretary proposed that the convention pass the motion ordering the scale committee to submit its report in which it will be shown the miners will accept President Wilson's commission as compulsory arbitration and not because it is to their liking. Their motion was made by David Fowler of Scranton, international organizer who has been working in Kentucky and West Virginia. The voting today was made during a spirited session. The discussion was most bitter. The scale committee scheduled to file its report this afternoon will endeavor to have several delegates ask President Wilson to heed their request for what they term "a fair-minded man" as a third member of the commission.

MICKIE SAYS

CAPITAL FEARS REPETITION OF RACE RIOTING

Attempted Lynching of Murderer Stirs Colored Residents of Alexandria, Va

MILITIA PATROLS THE STREETS

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Police here were on the alert today for signs of an outbreak of race rioting, such as caused blood-shed in the streets of Washington last summer. Alexandria, Virginia, a few miles from Washington, was patroled by troops during the night. Word was received by Washington police yesterday that motors loaded with negroes were coming to Alexandria to avenge themselves for attempts at lynching of George Turner, who murdered Thomas Moore on the road from Alexandria to Washington last Sunday. Mayor Fisher, of Alexandria, was advised and armed himself in defense of the attackers. The citizens bought up all of the revolvers in the town. A company of war veterans were organized and equipped with rifles, the home guards were called out and a detachment of the state militia rushed from Fall Church and spent the night in the Chamber of Commerce, ready for action. All the streets were patrolled. Volunteer relief workers served sandwiches and coffee.

FORMER RESIDENT MEETS UNTIMELY END AT CHESTER

CHESTER, Pa., May 26.—Boiled alive in a cloud of live steam, William P. Livingston, employed at the plant of the Sun Shipbuilding Company, is dead at the Chester Hospital. Livingston was scalded by a bursting steam pipe at the shipyard.

A crane upon which Livingston was working overturned and the impact broke a large steam pipe and the operator was enveloped in the cloud, parts of his body being actually parboiled before he could be rescued.

William Porter Livingston was the son of Alexander Livingston, of Fourth and Cherry streets, and a former well known resident of Clearfield. He was born at the old Livingston farm home at Bradford township on November 26, 1860, and was therefore aged 59 years and 6 months at the time of his untimely taking off.

He came to Clearfield about thirty years ago and resided here until some five years ago, when he removed his family to Delaware and later to Chester, Pa.

While in Clearfield he engaged in the mercantile business for himself for several years and was also a valued employee of the Dufton Hardware Company for a number of years. He was an industrious man, honest and upright in all his dealings and enjoyed the respect and esteem of a very large circle of friends throughout Clearfield county, who will sincerely mourn his untimely end.

He was married to Miss Kate Murray, daughter of the late John Murray of Clark street, and is survived by his widow, one son and two daughters. His aged father and two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Brown and Miss Mabel Livingston, all of Clearfield, also survive him.

Funeral arrangements are unknown at this time, but the remains will likely be brought to Clearfield for interment.

CURWENSVILLE COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION

The adjourned meeting of the Community Industrial Association of Thursday evening, was held in the High School building last evening, a fair representation of the membership being present, and taking an interest in the large volume of business transacted. Owing to the lateness of the hour in getting started, the reading of the minutes of the preceding monthly meeting was suspended. Under the reports of committees, Bert Ammerman, Chairman of Membership Committee, reported that some progress was being made along that line, and asked to be relieved from the committee, as he could not do justice to his duties, owing to the press of other important business. The Boy Scouts had been doing good work along membership lines and he was requested to remain on the committee until he had secured a report from them.

Mr. Kantar reported for the Merchants' Committee and said that he had interviewed the jitney men as to the running of a bus to and from Glen Richey, two trips a week and stated that they agreed to do the traveling for three dollars a trip. The object of this movement is to draw trade from that town to Curwensville, by hauling prospective passengers free. This matter was discussed quite freely and several suggestions offered as to the carrying out of the project.

The report of the committee on Civic Affairs was next called for and Chairman McKinley stated that the work along that line was progressing favorably as far as he knew. He also asked to be relieved from being a member of that committee, as his business interests called him out of town quite frequently and he felt as though he could not give his committee duties as much time and thought as they ought to have. His resignation was accepted with regret by the association, and the vacancy will be filled later by President Spencer and just as soon as he can secure an available man.

The committee on Industries not being present, no report was made, but a few brief remarks were made along that line by Messrs. Bailey and Gallagher.

Dr. Blair, Chairman of Professional not being present, no official report was rendered, but through the medium of the secretary, he asked the association to grant him the sum of $7.00, with which to carry out some sort of a contest he had on hand. A motion was made and carried, granting him the sum asked for.

There was no report from the Publicity Committee; only that which had been printed in the town paper. It was suggested that this committee get busy and have cards printed with the date of the next meeting thereon and send it out to the members of the association at least 48 hours before the date set for the meeting to convene. The suggestion brought forth some remarks on the subject by Secretary Haines and Messrs. Ammerman and Gallagher, and on motion of the chairman of this important committee, was instructed to comply with the voice of the association.

Committee on Home Development, in the absence of its representatives, was reported by President Spencer, who stated that a Realty Company had been organized, and that it had complied with all of the laws governing such a company, and it was now in shape to sell stock with a view of raising some money with which to build some new tenement houses. Said he thought this organization would prove the golden key with which to unlock the industrial situation in Curwensville and give the town a new impetus along business lines of every description, and that every property owner and everybody else would be benefitted thereby.

Committee on Finance reported through Bailey, who said that the association's finances were running a little short at present and was inclined to think that the blame lay in the hands of the Executive Committee, be that as it may, he had raised some $1,500 and expected to have all unpaid subscriptions collected by June 1st. He stated that more money must be raised with which to carry on present work and have all accounts squared up by the end of the present month. President Spencer made a few terse remarks on the question and ended by congratulating Mr. Bailey on the good work in that direction he had already accomplished.

O. C. Norris, Chairman of Building Committee, handed in a favorable report on progress being made toward the completion of the new blouse factory building. Said in his opinion that the carpenter work ought to be completed and the building ready for the plumbers in another week, provided some lumber which has not as yet arrived, comes in within the next few days.

Rev. Connelly, who has been at the head of the Entertainment Committee since the birth of the association, had no special report to make, and asked for instructions. He was only appointed for two months, and as his time had expired, the President reappointed him for another term.

Some of the railroads had forwarded to the association an appeal asking it to endorse their demands from the Interstate Commission, for a higher freight rate. A letter was read from J. M. McKinley, Superintendent of the Refractories brick plant here, substantially endorsing the request for a new rate. This question brought on [illegible] the evening, and finally wound up by the association [illegible] to the railroad company a resolution [illegible] their wishes in the matter with the government authorities.

A proposition was brought before the meeting that the association build a public band stand in some suitable and convenient spot for the use of both of the town bands, in order that they might be induced to give public concerts. This brought the business end of the meeting to a close, when Rev. Collins was called on and made some appropriate remarks.

WE MUST TRAIN OUR BOYS AND GIRLS IN GOOD CITIZENSHIP

In Clearfield county we are face to face with a most dangerous situation. Men are not fulfilling their duty as citizens by failing to exercise the voting privilege, and of those who do vote, a very great number do not know enough about a printed ballot to mark it according to their real desire. Anybody who has served on an election board will tell you that it is surprising the number of men there are who display the grossest ignorance in the marking of the ballot and young men voting for the first time do not seem to know anything about it. At a recent election, one young man, a high school graduate, too, wanted to know if he should sign his name to the ballot. Another pulled aside the curtains of the adjoining booth, in ignorance of the law, and asked the voter in it to come over and help him. Hundreds of ballots are cast every election which have to be thrown away because of errors. Hundreds of voters vote for only three or four candidates and let it go at that, for fear of making a mistake which will nullify their ballot.

The secret ballot is one of the fundamentals of our form of government, yet a great percentage of us do not know how to use it. The average young man, however, must depend on the political ward boss to show him how to vote. To change these conditions a way must be found to acquaint the rising generations of men, and women too, with the election laws and the marking of the ballot. Americanization schools may be alright, but Americanization schools should not be needed for the boy or girl of American birth. We have for this use our public school system, which we believe should be used for the purpose of instructing young people more fully in the duties of citizenship.

PURE FOOD AGENTS MAKE BIG HAUL IN PENNSYLVANIA

HARRISBURG, May 27.—Arrests of 175 violators of the pure food law will be made by the Bureau of Food of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. Arrests cover every county in the state. 140 of the violators are soft drink manufacturers, charged with substituting saccharine for sugar. Saccharine is more sweet than sugar, but is a harmful drug. Most of the remainder are confectioners charged with the selling of chocolate covered cherries, preserved with sulphur dioxide.

"SHOT" THE FIRE DEPARTMENT

The moving picture artist with the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, arranged with Fire Chief Knepp to snap our fire department in action while the Pittsburghers were visiting our town yesterday afternoon. The fire alarm called the boys to Second and Bridge streets, where the movie machine was set up and clicked off several hundred feet of film, in which fire laddies accoutred to the guards went into action with a rush.

The films will be shown in Pittsburgh and later returned to our local movie houses for showing here.

KILLED IMMENSE RATTLER

W. J. Davis and Dr. F. D. Leipold fished Stone Run Monday afternoon after the rain had subsided, and landed a fine batch of trout, in addition to a black rattler, which measured four feet, eight inches and was equipped with nine alarm bells and a button. Davis landed the monster with a shot through the head from his trusty "fly gun." The snake's hide is on exhibition at the Davis & Edwards pool room, next door to The Progress office.

The President's disposition of the peace resolution, whether for or against, will be the signal for the myriad of paragraphers and speech makers to again launch into a denounciation of both he and congress for their inability to agree. It does seem ridiculous that there is not a greater unanimity of opinion on such a momentous matter and yet the very size of it makes it all the harder for men to harmonize their ideas or assume a conciliatory mood. To the President, it would be impossible for him to do otherwise than veto the peace resolution. To accept the Knox measure would be the most humiliating thing in the world for him. Nobody expects him to accept it. Nobody else, if in his position, would accept it. Our congressmen are at last not doing the will of the President and those who are for the peace treaty and league are not ready to believe that the people of the United States are over-whelmingly against. Although congress seems to be obstinate we prefer to think that the individual congressman is simply sticking to the pinciples he believes to be right. Many of those who criticize congress for its inablity to agree are at a loss to know just how they would vote on the question themselves.

How Many Miles From a Cord Tire?

Men are everywhere telling remarkable tales about mileage from Miller Cords.

But remember that mileage varies with conditions. Size and load, road and care affect it.

One man who has sold and watched many thousand Miller Tires says this:

"I find that Millers excel other tires in service from 50 per cent to 75 per cent."

The Hudson Taxi Co. of Detroit reports a 15,000-mile average on rather heavy taxis.

Tread Patented

Center tread smooth with suction cup, for firm hold on wet asphalt. Geared-to-the-Road side treads mesh like cogs in dirt.

The Eldorado Stage Co. of Los Angeles, after long comparisons of 22 makes, say that Millers excel all.

Factory Tests

Miller factory tests, which are severe, last year showed a rear-wheel average of 15,000 miles on Cords. They proved that Millers, with rare exceptions, outwore every tire compared. They proved the new Miller tread the best of all treads by 25 per cent.

Test one for yourself. It will give you new ideas about tire mileage. It will, in all probability, break all records on your car.

Miller experts in ten years have done much to serve you. For your own sake, learn what they have done.

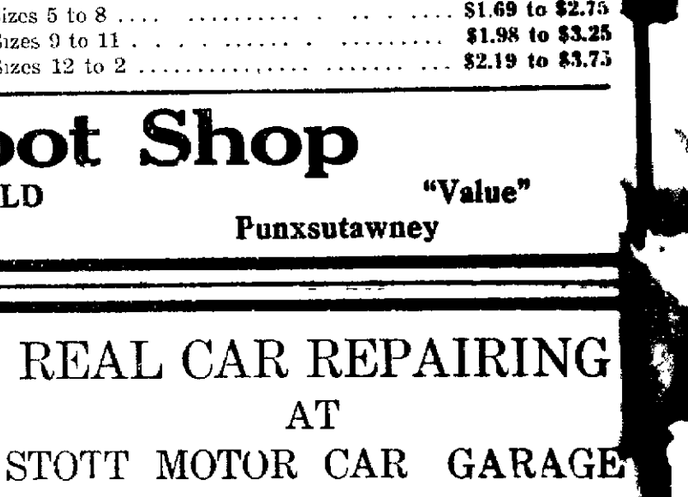
Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks



A man's best and feel one's best after an inside bath each morning before breakfast from the system the previous day's waste sour fermentations and poisonous toxins, before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material, so the material in the form of indigestible food and drink taken each day leaves in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material which ultimately forms toxins and poisons which are absorbed into the blood and carried to the very cells which are supposed to receive its nourishment to every part of body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy beauty in your cheeks to see your skin clear and fair, you are told to drink a glass of hot water before breakfast each morning upon arising. Then follow with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste matter and toxins from the stomach, liver and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting food into the stomach.

Girls and women with sallow skin, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, or others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses pimples and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while bowel pores do.

Women who desire to enhance beauty of their complexion should try this for a week or perilous journey over the window ledge to inspect my find, of the screams we had heard, followed by the shot, of how Barbara had fled back by the way she came, and I had run downstairs and with Wick had discovered the body. I told him every detail so far as I could remember it, winding up with my catching Claire Bradford leaving my apartment, just before my arrest and the finding of the revolver.

"You don't think the detectives themselves planted the gun on you?" he asked. "I've heard of them doing things like that."

He spoke with such an air of innocence that I had to smile. I doubt if there were many tricks of detectives Gorman did not know all about. They had no opportunity whatever. Neither of them had been near the door before, and I was watching it every moment."

"Well, who did hide the revolver there, if they didn't?"

"I don't know."

"Couldn't Wick have done it?"

"He was with him every moment after I discovered the body."

"Maybe it was Claire Bradford?"

I shook my head.

"I thought at first it might have been she, but I'm convinced since talking with her that it was not. She's either entirely innocent or else the most wonderful actress in the world."

"I think we can leave her out of it," grunted Gorman.

"That leaves only Wick."

Gorman shook his head positively.

"No, Wick didn't do it. He's a bad one all right, and he has done time, but he's only a tool."

"What has done time?" I exclaimed. "How did you find that out? What else have you learned about him?"

Gorman grinned at my eager questioning.

"I don't know much about him yet, but I'm sure he's an ex-con. While you were in court this morning," he explained, "I went up to the Granddeck to take a look at things for myself. Wick showed me through the Lutan apartment, thinking I was from the coroner's office. I spotted him at once as a crook that has done time and is sure to give himself away."

"How?" I asked.

"Oh," said Gorman judicially, "prisons and businesses leave their marks on men. A clergyman don't have to be wearing a high vest for you to spot him, and nobody ever took a dancing teacher for a pugilist. A man that has looked at as many crooks as I have knows them by instinct, and then there are little ways you can tell. As I was walking up to the apartment with Wick I just naturally fell into step with him, showing he had been used to marching with other prisoners. He talks, too, without moving his lips. That's a sure sign. They learn that in prison so they can talk without the guards knowing it."

"That's so," I cried. "It struck me that there was something funny about the way Wick talked, but I couldn't have told just what it was."

"Wick's a crook, all right, "but I think he comes from somewhere upstate or maybe out West, but he hasn't intelligence enough to be anything more than a runner for the—"

"What's your theory?" I asked.

"Wick didn't murder Miss Lutan, that's sure."

"I don't know yet. Wick ain't big enough. Big jobs take big men to handle them. This whole thing is a big affair, carefully planned out. It takes more brains than Wick ever dreamed of having to plant anonymous notes and terrify people nearly out of their senses with mysterious whispers and then to steal the Bradford papers and the Gaston pearls and when things get hot to have you and me and the gout to blame for it."

"You think my discharge from the force was part of the plot?"

"Sure it was. You butted in on their small plans, and they want to square with you, and a young fellow out of work and discharged in disgrace is always an easy mark for suspicion."

"And was it part of the plot to blame Miss Lutan's murder on me?"

"I don't think so. The Lutan murder was an accident. Even the biggest crooks seldom deliberately plan murder. They're all afraid of the chair. She came in and surprised some one of the gang in the apartment. He had to shoot her to make his getaway. It was quick thinking on somebody's part after the murder to plant that gun in your rooms. That kind of scheming takes brains, and Wick hasn't got them."

"Who was it, then?"

"We've got to find," said Gorman, speaking slowly and with emphasis, "the big crook that is back of all this —the master-mind."

"The master-mind," I echoed.

"Yes," he said, "there's a big crook and brain somewhere that has been directing the whole plot, and planning the actions of Wick and of the telephone girl, and maybe of Claire Bradford, too."

"I wonder if it could be her ex-husband. She told me, though, a few moments ago, that she had not heard of him for years, and she seemed to me to be telling the truth."

"We've Got to Find the Crook That Is Back of All This—the Master Mind."

"I don't think it was him," said Gorman. "He was only a chauffeur. If he's in it at all, he's only one of the gang. He's not the master-mind."

"I hope we can keep the Bradfords out of it altogether," I said. "You see, Gorman—"

"I understand," he interrupted. "I know how the land lies. You need not worry about that. If Claire Bradford had any part in the plot, you can bet she was forced into it and driven to do what she did. Have you seen her sister?"

"No, and I hope she'll make no effort to see me. She mustn't. You'll see her, won't you?"

"Leave it to me," said the detective. "I'll manage to reach her without even her own family knowing anything about it. I'll make her understand that if she tries to see you or says anything, she'll only be damaging your case. Don't worry about her."

"There's one thing, though," I said, "that I wish you could do."

"What's that?"

"Can you find some way of getting to the Gaston apartment and exploring that secret passage and see where it leads?"

He turned savagely on me.

"Say, young fellow," he said, "if I didn't know that you were innocent, I'd swear that you were a dope fiend with this tale of a secret passage. You've been reading too many thrillers or going to the movies too much. They don't have secret passages in modern apartment houses. You better keep quiet about that. You can't get anybody to believe you, and you'll only hurt your case."

"But I know there's a passageway there—along the hall. I found the opening, a panel in my bedroom. There's a place there big enough for a man to walk in. I saw it."

He looked at me pityingly, and I could see that he did not believe a word I was saying.

"All right, there's a passage there, and we'll leave it there. A young fellow in love is apt to imagine all sorts of things."

I saw there was no use in my insisting further about the passageway. His mind was stubbornly made up that it could not exist. He was the only friend I had in all the great city, and I must leave it to him to work the thing out in his own way.

"What about a lawyer?" I asked.

"Didn't the court assign you one?"

"Yes, but he took it for granted that I was guilty, so I got rid of him."

"Well, there ain't much a lawyer could do yet. I'll dig up one when we need him. Bail is not possible in a murder case, so there is nothing for you to do but to sit tight and take it as easy as you can. By the way, have you heard anything from old Gaston since you were arrested?"

"Not a word," I answered. "I have not the least idea where he is or how to reach him."

"Humph, that's funny," said Gorman abstractedly. "Good-by, I'll see you again tomorrow."

He pounded on the cell door, and a guard released him, leaving me alone to ponder over my plight, and especially over his last question. What had he meant by it?

Where was old Rufus Gaston?

Once more suspicion of my aged relative shot through my brain. Was it possible that his was the master mind behind all this plotting? Gorman had insisted that the arch criminal behind Wick and the others must be some man of intellect. My great-uncle Rufus had brains. Out of a clear sky he had summoned me to live in the Granddeck and then had mysteriously disappeared. Certainly he had had opportunities for knowing Wick and the telephone girl. Barbara had recalled once having heard her father speak of him in disparaging terms. Had it been he who was plotting against the Bradfords and had brought me into the case as a scapegoat?

The examinations will begin at 9 a. m. It is requested that each applicant shall use the ordinary examination blank, or if it is impossible to get this, shall provide a good grade of tablet paper about the same size.

Each applicant shall present a recommendation of character from some one known either to the Superintendent or his assistants, together with the blank furnished by the Department of Public Instruction.

Owing to the importance of professional preparation for the high calling of teaching, each applicant will be required to have made a careful study of Betts' "Classroom Method and Management," also Kreb's "Being a Good Teacher," providing the applicant expects to be eligible for the Professional Examination in 1921.

As we are holding a special examination in Clearfield on August 9th, no private examinations will be held until after the schools open and then only in unavoidable cases. Every one desiring to teach, is urged to take the examination at the regular time.

Teachers who have taught two successful terms of school and hold a Provisional certificate averaging one and one-fourth, and have shown a good professional attitude, are eligible to enter the Professional Examination. All applicants entering this examination must present a testimonial from their respective boards certifying to their successful experience, together with information blank furnished by the Department at Harrisburg. These blanks can be gotten at the County Superintendent's office.

A special Eighth Grade Examination for the Pupils who almost passed at the Spring Examination and who did work under an authorized teacher during the summer. Statement of work must be presented to admit to examination.

Friends of education and especially directors are invited and urged to be present at the examinations.

"PAUL REVERE"

The Eighth Grade pupils are arranging to give a play on June 1st, in which will be depicted the scenes surrounding or incident to the famous ride of that doughty young New England Yankee, Paul Revere, who the history tells us rode his "old grey mare" from Concord to Lexington to warn Sam Adams and John Hancock that the Britishers were coming to capture these sterling old American patriots in an effort to head off the American revolution.

We all remember how, even though Paul had no Tin Lizzie, he got there just the same and the two signal lanterns flashed their news from the steeple of old North Church and the Redcoats were cheated of their patriotic prey.

We always knew Paul was some good old patriot, and while we long suspected it, we never knew until just now that there was a girl in the case. But there was and Paul was not only saving his country, which he loved, but he was saving Molly Faxton, whom he also dearly loved, from falling into the clutches of the hated British Captain Marks.

We are going to stop right here, before we give the show away, but if you are interested in the very pretty story which surrounds this historic incident, don't fail to see those Eighth Graders re-enact the thrilling scenes incident to this momentous event in our country's revolutionary history at the High School Auditorium, Tuesday evening, June 1st.

Doctors Favor New Tasteless Castor Oil

New Process Makes Castor Oil Absolutely Tasteless

Doctors have always prescribed castor oil when a real laxative is needed, and all mothers know how much trouble it is to get children to take it. There need be no more trouble, for doctors are now recommending KELLOGG'S TASTELESS CASTOR OIL, from which ABSOLUTELY all nauseating taste has been removed. Children take it readily. They need not even know it is castor oil. This splendid new form of the good old family remedy is the result of a remarkable process perfected by the chemists of Spencer Kellogg & Sons, Inc. In strength and purity KELLOGG'S TASTELESS CASTOR OIL is exactly the same as the old-fashioned disagreeable kind. Nothing has been removed but the taste. Do not accept substitutes, if you want a really TASTELESS castor oil. At all good druggists. Two sizes, 35c and 65c. (Advt.)

Quit Meat When Kidneys Bother

Take a glass of salts before breakfast if your back hurts or bladder is troubling you

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, so they cease causing irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

If Skin Breaks Out and Itches Apply Sulphur

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

Turn Hair Dark With Sage Tea

Grandma kept her locks dark, glossy and youthful with a simple mixture of sage tea and sulphur

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

When Woman Proposes.

It was not leap year when Queen Victoria offered her heart and hand to Prince Albert, whom etiquette prevented from proposing to the queen of England, but Sir Robert Peel declared that his sovereign was "as full of love as Juliet," and the marriage, which was solemnized in leap year, proved a union of perfect bliss.

WILSON PUTS VETO AXE TO PEACE RESOLUTION

DECLARES ACCEPTANCE OF THE MEASURE WOULD BE VIRTUAL SURRENDER OF PRINCIPLES TO OUR OLD ENEMY

LITTLE HOPE OF PASSING OVER VETO

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 27— President Wilson today vetoed the Knox peace resolution declaring an end to the war between the United States and Germany and Austro-Hungary. The resolution Wilson declared is "in effect a complete surrender of the principles of the United States so far as Germany is concerned."

ALLEGED ACCESSORY IN CURWENSNILLE MURDER IS ON TRIAL TODAY

Clementi Pistelli, of Curwensville, was found guilty of murder in the second degree by a jury in criminal court yesterday afternoon. He had been on trial since Monday for the killing of Temisticle Cavaterra, who was killed in a battle with Pistilli at Curwensville on December 6th last. The jury returned their verdict at 2:30, the cause having been given into their hands at 12:30 following Judge Bell's charge.

The maximum penalty for second degree murder is 20 years and the minimum 6 years in the penitentiary.

Following the return of the verdict Angelo Tucci, a boarding house keeper at Curwensville and at whose house Pistilli and Cacaterra engaged, in a wordy altercation a few minutes before the killing was placed on trial for his life, being charged with being an accessory before the fact of the killing, it being alleged by the Commonwealth that Tucci supplied Pistilli with the revolver with which he shot Cavaterra to death, and also urged Pistilli to follow Cavaterra out of the house and "get him."

District Attorney Arnold, representing the Commonwealth and A. H. Woodward, Esq., employed by a brother of Cavaterra, and who prosecuted Pistilli, will also prosecute the case against Tucci, while Messrs. A. M. Leveright and W. C. Miller will have charge of the defense.

The afternoon and a night session last night was devoted to securing a jury, an extra or special venire of talesmen was made necessary, sixty-five men being summoned before the required twelve were secured at 9:30 o'clock. Six of the jurors are Clearfielders specially summoned by the sheriff, and it is needless to add that none of them enjoyed being yanked from their business yesterday evening and locked up for the night, with a consequent two or three day grind.

The completed jury follows:

William H. Curley, labor, Cooer twp.
James Dickey, garage man, Mahaffey
William Dunbar, blacksmith Mahaffey
John Weaver, farmer, Burnside Twp.
W Howard Stewart, agent, Clearfield
Alonzo Fubbs, mine foreman, Knox

PROPERTY OWNERS NEAR BOROUGH LINE OBJECT TO DUMP

We regret that lack of space will no longer permit us to publish all the communications we receive, but we shall, from time to time, endeavor to make mention of the salient points in these letters. Among others we have today is one from a Plymptonville resident who objects to the dumping of rubbish of every description on the landscape out there. He states that they have no objection to the incinerator, but that along with the inflammable rubbish there is being delivered to that section great quantities of fruit cans, broken dishes and other unsightly and unsanitary waste, which will be a breeder of flies, a haven for rats and a blot on their civic pride. There is justice in the contention of the people of that section of our community. We have no license to make a back yard dump out of that section, where practically everybody owns their own home, humble though they may be. The concluding paragraph of the letter is as follows and it is a strong indictment:

"Many of these people have been compelled to move outside the borough because of the scarcity of houses. They have bought lots and built their homes and are trying to make their little town a clean, liveable place for their families. Many of them belong to your churches and Sunday Schools. They trade at your stores and subscribe to your paper. Yet the city authorities have ordered all the filth of Clearfield dumped practically in their back yards. Again I say, is it fair?"

"WHEN GOOD FELLOWS GET TOGETHER

The Progress office was favored yesterday with a call from three representatives of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce which it was a real pleasure to meet and greet. The visiting delegation was composed of some 126 men representing the business and professional life of the hustling "smoky city" and while they were all good fellows and good business men no doubt a number of them were along to add dignity, impressiveness and eclat to the occasion by reason of their presence Not so with our callers. They were the real live wires from and through which radiated the "life and punch" to the visit from its inception to yesterday's consummation.

The gentlemen in question were our old friend John P. Cowen publicity man for the expedition who doeth all things to which he puts his hand, exceptionally well, as this trip's advertisement demonstrates; William A. White, of the Tri-State News Bureau and Charles J. Doyle, another Knight Errant of the Fourth Estate.

This trio of experts were giving things the critical once over as they went along and were getting a lot of real pleasure out of the acquaintanceships they were renewing and making while perambulating in and about the different places on their itinerary. They will always be welcome in Clearfield.

ANTHRACITE MEN REJECT OFFER OF WM. B. WILSON

Convention Passes Resolution To Accept Federal Arbitration But As "Compulsory"

TALE FLING AT ROBINSON

WILKESBARRE, May 27—The tri-district convention of the anthracite miners today unanimously rejected the proposed agreement of Secretary of Labor Wilson by which the cabinet member endeavored to bring about a satisfactory adjustment of the miners' demands.

Immediately following the rejection the secretary proposed that the convention pass the motion ordering the scale committee to submit its report in which it will be shown the miners will accept President Wilson's commission as compulsory arbitration and not because it is to their liking. Their motion was made by David Fowler of Scranton, international organizer who has been working in Kentucky and West Virginia. The voting today was made during a spirited session. The discussion was most bitter. The scale committee scheduled to file its report this afternoon will endeavor to have several delegates ask President Wilson to heed their request for what they term "a fair-minded man" as a third member of the commission.

CAPITAL FEARS REPETITION OF RACE RIOTING

Attempted Lynching of Murderer Stirs Colored Residents of Alexandria, Va

MILITIA PATROLS THE STREETS

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Police here were on the alert today for signs of an outbreak of race rioting, such as caused blood-shed in the streets of Washington last summer. Alexandria, Virginia, a few miles from Washington, was patroled by troops during the night. Word was received by Washington police yesterday that motors loaded with negroes were coming to Alexandria to avenge themselves for attempts at lynching of George Turner, who murdered Thomas Moore on the road from Alexandria to Washington last Sunday. Mayor Fisher, of Alexandria, was advised and armed himself in defense of the attackers. The citizens bought up all of the revolvers in the town. A company of war veterans were organized and equipped with rifles, the home guards were called out and a detachment of the state militia rushed from Fall Church and spent the night in the Chamber of Commerce, ready for action. All the streets were patrolled. Volunteer relief workers served sandwiches and coffee.

FORMER RESIDENT MEETS UNTIMELY END AT CHESTER

CHESTER, Pa., May 26.—Boiled alive in a cloud of live steam, William P. Livingston, employed at the plant of the Sun Shipbuilding Company, is dead at the Chester Hospital. Livingston was scalded by a bursting steam pipe at the shipyard.

A crane upon which Livingston was working overturned and the impact broke a large steam pipe and the operator was enveloped in the cloud, parts of his body being actually parboiled before he could be rescued.

William Porter Livingston was the son of Alexander Livingston, of Fourth and Cherry streets, and a former well known resident of Clearfield. He was born at the old Livingston farm home at Bradford township on November 26, 1860, and was therefore aged 59 years and 6 months at the time of his untimely taking off.

He came to Clearfield about thirty years ago and resided here until some five years ago, when he removed his family to Delaware and later to Chester, Pa.

While in Clearfield he engaged in the mercantile business for himself for several years and was also a valued employee of the Dufton Hardware Company for a number of years. He was an industrious man, honest and upright in all his dealings and enjoyed the respect and esteem of a very large circle of friends throughout Clearfield county, who will sincerely mourn his untimely end.

He was married to Miss Kate Murray, daughter of the late John Murray of Clark street, and is survived by his widow, one son and two daughters. His aged father and two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Brown and Miss Mabel Livingston, all of Clearfield, also survive him.

Funeral arrangements are unknown at this time, but the remains will likely be brought to Clearfield for interment.

CURWENSVILLE COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION

The adjourned meeting of the Community Industrial Association of Thursday evening, was held in the High School building last evening, a fair representation of the membership being present, and taking an interest in the large volume of business transacted. Owing to the lateness of the hour in getting started, the reading of the minutes of the preceding monthly meeting was suspended. Under the reports of committees, Bert Ammerman, Chairman of Membership Committee, reported that some progress was being made along that line, and asked to be relieved from the committee, as he could not do justice to his duties, owing to the press of other important business. The Boy Scouts had been doing good work along membership lines and he was requested to remain on the committee until he had secured a report from them.

Mr. Kantar reported for the Merchants' Committee and said that he had interviewed the jitney men as to the running of a bus to and from Glen Richey, two trips a week and stated that they agreed to do the traveling for three dollars a trip. The object of this movement is to draw trade from that town to Curwensville, by hauling prospective passengers free. This matter was discussed quite freely and several suggestions offered as to the carrying out of the project.

The report of the committee on Civic Affairs was next called for and Chairman McKinley stated that the work along that line was progressing favorably as far as he knew. He also asked to be relieved from being a member of that committee, as his business interests called him out of town quite frequently and he felt as though he could not give his committee duties as much time and thought as they ought to have. His resignation was accepted with regret by the association, and the vacancy will be filled later by President Spencer and just as soon as he can secure an available man.

The committee on Industries not being present, no report was made, but a few brief remarks were made along that line by Messrs. Bailey and Gallagher.

Dr. Blair, Chairman of Professional not being present, no official report was rendered, but through the medium of the secretary, he asked the association to grant him the sum of $7.00, with which to carry out some sort of a contest he had on hand. A motion was made and carried, granting him the sum asked for.

There was no report from the Publicity Committee; only that which had been printed in the town paper. It was suggested that this committee get busy and have cards printed with the date of the next meeting thereon and send it out to the members of the association at least 48 hours before the date set for the meeting to convene. The suggestion brought forth some remarks on the subject by Secretary Haines and Messrs. Ammerman and Gallagher, and on motion of the chairman of this important committee, was instructed to comply with the voice of the association.

Committee on Home Development, in the absence of its representatives, was reported by President Spencer, who stated that a Realty Company had been organized, and that it had complied with all of the laws governing such a company, and it was now in shape to sell stock with a view of raising some money with which to build some new tenement houses. Said he thought this organization would prove the golden key with which to unlock the industrial situation in Curwensville and give the town a new impetus along business lines of every description, and that every property owner and everybody else would be benefitted thereby.

Committee on Finance reported through Bailey, who said that the association's finances were running a little short at present and was inclined to think that the blame lay in the hands of the Executive Committee, be that as it may, he had raised some $1,500 and expected to have all unpaid subscriptions collected by June 1st. He stated that more money must be raised with which to carry on present work and have all accounts squared up by the end of the present month. President Spencer made a few terse remarks on the question and ended by congratulating Mr. Bailey on the good work in that direction he had already accomplished.

O. C. Norris, Chairman of Building Committee, handed in a favorable report on progress being made toward the completion of the new blouse factory building. Said in his opinion that the carpenter work ought to be completed and the building ready for the plumbers in another week, provided some lumber which has not as yet arrived, comes in within the next few days.

Rev. Connelly, who has been at the head of the Entertainment Committee since the birth of the association, had no special report to make, and asked for instructions. He was only appointed for two months, and as his time had expired, the President reappointed him for another term.

Some of the railroads had forwarded to the association an appeal asking it to endorse their demands from the Interstate Commission, for a higher freight rate. A letter was read from J. M. McKinley, Superintendent of the Refractories brick plant here, substantially endorsing the request for a new rate. This question brought on [illegible] evening, and finally wound up by the association [illegible] to the railroad company a resolution [illegible] their wishes in the matter with the government authorities.

A proposition was brought before the meeting that the association build a public band stand in some suitable and convenient spot for the use of both of the town bands, in order that they might be induced to give public concerts. This brought the business end of the meeting to a close, when Rev. Collins was called on and made some appropriate remarks.

WE MUST TRAIN OUR BOYS AND GIRLS IN GOOD CITIZENSHIP

In Clearfield county we are face to face with a most dangerous situation. Men are not fulfilling their duty as citizens by failing to exercise the voting privilege, and of those who do vote, a very great number do not know enough about a printed ballot to mark it according to their real desire. Anybody who has served on an election board will tell you that it is surprising the number of men there are who display the grossest ignorance in the marking of the ballot and young men voting for the first time do not seem to know anything about it. At a recent election, one young man, a high school graduate, too, wanted to know if he should sign his name to the ballot. Another pulled aside the curtains of the adjoining booth, in ignorance of the law, and asked the voter in it to come over and help him. Hundreds of ballots are cast every election which have to be thrown away because of errors. Hundreds of voters vote for only three or four candidates and let it go at that, for fear of making a mistake which will nullify their ballot.

The secret ballot is one of the fundamentals of our form of government, yet a great percentage of us do not know how to use it. The average young man, however, must depend on the political ward boss to show him how to vote. To change these conditions a way must be found to acquaint the rising generations of men, and women too, with the election laws and the marking of the ballot. Americanization schools may be alright, but Americanization schools should not be needed for the boy or girl of American birth. We have for this use our public school system, which we believe should be used for the purpose of instructing young people more fully in the duties of citizenship.

Arrests cover every county in the state. 140 of the violators are soft drink manufacturers, charged with substituting saccharine for sugar. Saccharine is more sweet than sugar, but is a harmful drug. Most of the remainder are confectioners charged with the selling of chocolate covered cherries, preserved with sulphur dioxide.

"SHOT" THE FIRE DEPARTMENT

The moving picture artist with the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, arranged with Fire Chief Knepp to snap our fire department in action while the Pittsburghers were visiting our town yesterday afternoon. The fire alarm called the boys to Second and Bridge streets, where the movie machine was set up and clicked off several hundred feet of film, in which fire laddies accoutred to the guards went into action with a rush.

The films will be shown in Pittsburgh and later returned to our local movie houses for showing here.

KILLED IMMENSE RATTLER

W. J. Davis and Dr. F. D. Leipold fished Stone Run Monday afternoon after the rain had subsided, and landed a fine batch of trout, in addition to a black rattler, which measured four feet, eight inches and was equipped with nine alarm bells and a button. Davis landed the monster with a shot through the head from his trusty "fly gun." The snake's hide is on exhibition at the Davis & Edwards pool room, next door to The Progress office.

The President's disposition of the peace resolution, whether for or against, will be the signal for the myriad of paragraphers and speech makers to again launch into a denounciation of both he and congress for their inability to agree. It does seem ridiculous that there is not a greater unanimity of opinion on such a momentous matter and yet the very size of it makes it all the harder for men to harmonize their ideas or assume a conciliatory mood. To the President, it would be impossible for him to do otherwise than veto the peace resolution. To accept the Knox measure would be the most humiliating thing in the world for him. Nobody expects him to accept it. Nobody else, if in his position, would accept it. Our congressmen are at last not doing the will of the President and those who are for the peace treaty and league are not ready to believe that the people of the United States are over-whelmingly against. Although congress seems to be obstinate we prefer to think that the individual congressman is simply sticking to the pinciples he believes to be right. Many of those who criticize congress for its inablity to agree are at a loss to know just how they would vote on the question themselves.

How Many Miles From a Cord Tire?

Men are everywhere telling remarkable tales about mileage from Miller Cords.

But remember that mileage varies with conditions. Size and load, road and care affect it.

One man who has sold and watched many thousand Miller Tires says this:

"I find that Millers excel other tires in service from 50 per cent to 75 per cent."

The Hudson Taxi Co. of Detroit reports a 15,000-mile average on rather heavy taxis.

Tread Patented

Center tread smooth with suction cup, for firm hold on wet asphalt. Geared-to-the-Road side treads mesh like cogs in dirt.

The Eldorado Stage Co. of Los Angeles, after long comparisons of 22 makes, say that Millers excel all.

Factory Tests

Miller factory tests, which are severe, last year showed a rear-wheel average of 15,000 miles on Cords. They proved that Millers, with rare exceptions, outwore every tire compared. They proved the new Miller tread the best of all treads by 25 per cent.

Test one for yourself. It will give you new ideas about tire mileage. It will, in all probability, break all records on your car.

Miller experts in ten years have done much to serve you. For your own sake, learn what they have done.

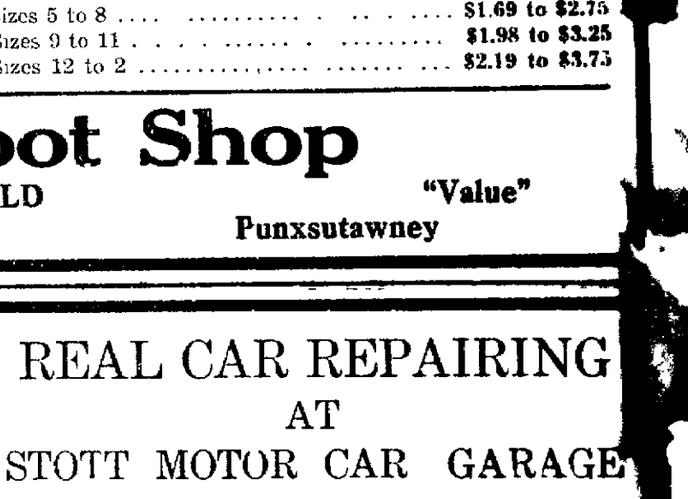
Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks



To one's best and feel one's best upon an inside bath each morning. Drink from the system the previous day's waste sour fermentations and poisonous toxins, before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material, so the human body accumulates form-toxins and other poisons picked into the blood by the very duties which are necessary in order nourishment to the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy beauty in your cheeks to see your skin clear and clearer, you are told to drink a glass of hot water before breakfast morning upon arising. Into this glass of water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste matter and toxins from the stomach, liver and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting food into the stomach.

Girls and women with sallow skin, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses pimples and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while bowel pores do.

Women who desire to enhance beauty of their complexion should try this for a week at perilous journey over the window ledge to inspect my find, of the screams we had heard, followed by the shot, of how Barbara had fled back by the way she came, and I had run downstairs and with Wick had discovered the body. I told him every detail so far as I could remember it, winding up with my catching Claire Bradford leaving my apartment, just before my arrest and the finding of the revolver.

"You don't think the detectives themselves planted the gun on you?" he asked. "I've heard of them doing things like that."

He spoke with such an air of innocence that I had to smile. I doubt if there were many tricks of detectives Gorman did not know all about. They had no opportunity whatever. Neither of them had been near the door before, and I was watching it every moment."

"Well, who did hide the revolver there, if they didn't?"

"I don't know."

"Couldn't Wick have done it?"

"He was with him every moment after I discovered the body."

"Maybe it was Claire Bradford?"

I shook my head.

"I thought at first it might have been she, but I'm convinced since talking with her that it was not. She's either entirely innocent or else the most wonderful actress in the world."

"I think we can leave her out of it," grunted Gorman.

"That leaves only Wick."

Gorman shook his head positively.

"No, Wick didn't do it. He's a bad one all right, and he has done time, but he's only a tool."

"What has done time?" I exclaimed. "How did you find that out? What else have you learned about him?"

Gorman grinned at my eager questioning.

"I don't know much about him yet, but I'm sure he's an ex-con. While you were in court this morning," he explained, "I went up to the Granddeck to take a look at things for myself. Wick showed me through the Lutan apartment, thinking I was from the coroner's office. I spotted him at once as a crook that has done time and is sure to give himself away."

"How?" I asked.

"Oh," said Gorman judicially, "prisons and businesses leave their marks on men. A clergyman don't have to be wearing a high vest for you to spot him, and nobody ever took a dancing teacher for a pugilist. A man that has looked at as many crooks as I have knows them by instinct, and then there are little ways you can tell. As I was walking up to the apartment with Wick I just naturally fell into step with him, showing he had been used to marching with other prisoners. He talks, too, without moving his lips. That's a sure sign. They learn that in prison so they can talk without the guards knowing it."

"That's so," I cried. "It struck me that there was something funny about the way Wick talked, but I couldn't have told just what it was."

"Wick's a crook, all right, "but I think he comes from somewhere upstate or maybe out West, but he hasn't intelligence enough to be anything more than a runner for the gang."

"What's your theory?" I asked.

"Wick didn't murder Miss Lutan, that's sure."

"I don't know yet. Wick ain't big enough. Big jobs take big men to do them. This whole thing is a big affair, carefully planned out. It takes more brains than Wick ever dreamed of having to plant anonymous notes and terrify people nearly out of their senses with mysterious whispers and then to steal the Bradford papers and the Gaston pearls and get things get hot to have you arrested as the goat to blame for it."

"You think my discharge from court was part of the plot?"

"Sure it was. You butted in on their small plans, and they wanted to get square with you, and a young fellow out of work and discharged in disgrace is always an easy mark for suspicion."

"And was it part of the plot to blame Miss Lutan's murder on me?"

"I don't think so. The Lutan murder was an accident. Even the biggest crooks seldom deliberately plan murder. They're all afraid of the chair. She came in and surprised some one of the gang in the apartment. He had to shoot her to make his getaway. It was quick thinking on somebody's part after the murder to plant that gun in your rooms. That kind of scheming takes brains, and Wick hasn't got them."

"Who was it, then?"

"We've got to find," said Gorman, speaking slowly and with emphasis, "the big crook that is back of all this —the master-mind."

"The master-mind," I echoed.

"Yes," he said, "there's a big crook and brain somewhere that has been directing the whole plot, and planning the actions of Wick and of the telephone girl, and maybe of Claire Bradford, too."

"I wonder if it could be her ex-husband. She told me, though, a few moments ago, that she had not heard of him for years, and she seemed to me to be telling the truth."

"We've Got to Find the Crook That Is Back of All This—the Master Mind."

"I don't think it was him," said Gorman. "He was only a chauffeur. If he's in it at all, he's only one of the gang. He's not the master-mind."

"I hope we can keep the Bradfords out of it altogether," I said. "You see, Gorman—"

"I understand," he interrupted. "I know how the land lies. You need not worry about that. If Claire Bradford had any part in the plot, you can bet she was forced into it and driven to do what she did. Have you seen her sister?"

"No, and I hope she'll make no effort to see me. She mustn't. You'll see her, won't you?"

"Leave it to me," said the detective. "I'll manage to reach her without even her own family knowing anything about it. I'll make her understand that if she tries to see you or says anything, she'll only be damaging your case. Don't worry about her."

"There's one thing, though," I said, "that I wish you could do."

"What's that?"

"Can you find some way of getting to the Gaston apartment and exploring that secret passage and see where it leads?"

He turned savagely on me.

"Say, young fellow," he said, "if I didn't know that you were innocent, I'd swear that you were a dope fiend with this tale of a secret passage. You've been reading too many thrillers or going to the movies too much. They don't have secret passages in modern apartment houses. You better keep quiet about that. You can't get anybody to believe you, and you'll only hurt your case."

"But I know there's a passageway there—along the hall. I found the opening, a panel in my bedroom. There's a place there big enough for a man to walk in. I saw it."

He looked at me pityingly, and I could see that he did not believe a word I was saying.

"All right, there's a passage there, and we'll leave it there. A young fellow in love is apt to imagine all sorts of things."

I saw there was no use in my insisting further about the passageway. His mind was stubbornly made up that it could not exist. He was the only friend I had in all the great city, and I must leave it to him to work the thing out in his own way.

"What about a lawyer?" I asked.

"Didn't the court assign you one?"

"Yes, but he took it for granted that I was guilty, so I got rid of him."

"Well, there ain't much a lawyer could do yet. I'll dig up one when we need him. Bail is not possible in a murder case, so there is nothing for you to do but to sit tight and take it as easy as you can. By the way, have you heard anything from old Gaston since you were arrested?"

"Not a word," I answered. "I have not the least idea where he is or how to reach him."

"Humph, that's funny," said Gorman abstractedly. "Good-by, I'll see you again tomorrow."

He pounded on the cell door, and a guard released him, leaving me alone to ponder over my plight, and especially over his last question. What had he meant by it?

Where was old Rufus Gaston?

Once more suspicion of my aged relative shot through my brain. Was it possible that his was the master mind behind all this plotting? Gorman had insisted that the arch criminal behind Wick and the others must be some man of intellect. My great-uncle Rufus had brains. Out of a clear sky he had summoned me to live in the Granddeck and then had mysteriously disappeared. Certainly he had had opportunities for knowing Wick and the telephone girl. Barbara had recalled once having heard her father speak of him in disparaging terms. Had it been he who was plotting against the Bradfords and had brought me into the case as a scapegoat?

The law requires that every teacher employed to teach in the public schools of this commonwealth must be a person of good moral character and must be at least 18 years of age.

As no profession or calling is more important or more far-reaching in its results than that of teaching, I wish to urge upon each one contemplating entering upon this calling the most thorough preparation possible. The examinations will be somewhat more difficult than last year.

The examinations will begin at 9 a. m. It is requested that each applicant shall use the ordinary examination blank, or if it is impossible to get this, shall provide a good grade of tablet paper about the same size.

Each applicant shall present a recommendation of character from some one known either to the Superintendent or his assistants, together with the blank furnished by the Department of Public Instruction.

Owing to the importance of professional preparation for the high calling of teaching, each applicant will be required to have made a careful study of Betts' "Classroom Method and Management," also Kreb's "Being a Good Teacher," providing the applicant expects to be eligible for the Professional Examination in 1921.

As we are holding a special examination in Clearfield on August 9th, no private examinations will be held until after the schools open and then only in unavoidable cases. Every one desiring to teach, is urged to take the examination at the regular time.

Teachers who have taught two successful terms of school and hold a Provisional certificate averaging one and one-fourth, and have shown a good professional attitude, are eligible to enter the Professional Examination. All applicants entering this examination must present a testimonial from their respective boards certifying to their successful experience, together with information blank furnished by the Department at Harrisburg. These blanks can be gotten at the County Superintendent's office.

A special Eighth Grade Examination for the Pupils who almost passed at the Spring Examination and who did work under an authorized teacher during the summer. Statement of work must be presented to admit to examination.

Friends of education and especially directors are invited and urged to be present at the examinations.

BEDFAST EVERY WINTER; STOMACH TROUBLE GONE

Mrs. Mershon Found Speedy Relief After 18 Years' Suffering.

"I had suffered from stomach trouble for 18 years, and had spent hundreds of dollars doctoring. Every winter I was bedfast most of the time. I commenced taking Milks Emulsion last fall, and before I had taken six bottles, my stomach trouble disappeared and I have had no return of it since. This is the first winter in 18 years that I have not been bedfast. I also give Milks Emulsion to the children for croup, with splendid results."—Mrs. W. G. Mershon, Brazil, Ind.

Thousands of people who have suffered for years from stomach and bowel troubles, as Mrs. Mershon did, have found the same wonderful relief and lasting benefit from Milks Emulsion.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere. Guaranteed by Stewart's Drug Store.

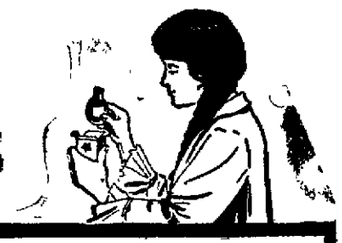
Better than Pills



YOU WILL NEVER wish to take another dose of pills after having once used Chamberlain's Tablets. They are easier and more pleasant to take, more gentle and mild in their action and more reliable. They leave the bowels in a natural condition, while the use of pills is often followed by severe constipation, requiring a constant increase in the dose. Every bottle guaranteed by your druggist.

"PAUL REVERE"

The Eighth Grade pupils are arranging to give a play on June 1st, in which will be depicted the scenes surrounding or incident to the famous ride of that doughty young New Englander Yankee, Paul Revere, who the history tells us rode his "old grey mare" from Concord to Lexington to warn Sam Adams and John Hancock that the Britishers were coming to capture these sterling old American patriots in an effort to head off the American revolution.

We all remember how, even though Paul had no Tin Lizzie, he got there just the same and the two signal lanterns flashed their news from the steeple of old North Church and the Redcoats were cheated of their patriotic prey.

We always knew Paul was some good old patriot, and while we long suspected it, we never knew until just now that there was a girl in the case. But there was and Paul was not only saving his country, which he loved, but he was saving Molly Faxton, whom he also dearly loved, from falling into the clutches of the hated British Captain Marks.

We are going to stop right here, before we give the show away, but if you are interested in the very pretty story which surrounds this historic incident, don't fail to see those Eighth Graders re-enact the thrilling scenes incident to this momentous event in our country's revolutionary history at the High School Auditorium, Tuesday evening, June 1st.

Doctors Favor New Tasteless Castor Oil

New Process Makes Castor Oil Absolutely Tasteless

Doctors have always prescribed castor oil when a real laxative is needed, and all mothers know how much trouble it is to get children to take it. There need be no more trouble, for doctors are now recommending KELLOGG'S TASTELESS CASTOR OIL, from which ABSOLUTELY all nauseating taste has been removed. Children take it readily. They need not even know it is castor oil. This splendid new form of the good old family remedy is the result of a remarkable process perfected by the chemists of Spencer Kellogg & Sons, Inc. In strength and purity KELLOGG'S TASTELESS CASTOR OIL is exactly the same as the old-fashioned disagreeable kind. Nothing has been removed but the taste. Do not accept substitutes, if you want a really TASTELESS castor oil. At all good druggists. Two sizes, 35c and 65c. (Advt.)

Keeps the Cattle Away.

Quit Meat When Kidneys Bother

Take a glass of salts before breakfast if your back hurts or bladder is troubling you

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy offensive, full of sediment, irregular of assage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, so they cease to cause irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

If Skin Breaks Out and Itches Apply Sulphur

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

Turn Hair Dark With Sage Tea

Grandma kept her locks dark, glossy and youthful with a simple mixture of sage tea and sulphur

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

When Woman Proposes.

It was not leap year when Queen Victoria offered her heart and hand to Prince Albert, whom etiquette prevented from proposing to the queen of England, but Sir Robert Peel declared that his sovereign was "as full of love as Juliet," and the marriage, which was solemnized in leap year, proved a union of perfect bliss.
